Ralph Munday Denton-Barker

Ralph Denton-Barker (17 July 1916 – 4 November 1990) was born in 1916 in Birkenhead [2] where he grew up with his older brother Mead and yonger sister Virginia (p.6).

Ralph was educated at Cheam and Felsted, and Birkenhead School. He joined the Alliance Insurance Company to train as an actuary, but left the company on joining the army at the beginning of the war. He served as a Private soldier throughout the war, and after demobilisation he trained as a primary school teacher, and worked as a teacher in Bedfordshire (living at the Old Schoolhouse in Pertenhall), Worcestershire (living at Dove Cottage, Great Witley and teaching at Arley Kings Primary School) and then in Cornwall (living at The Barn, Portloe and teaching at Mevagissey until he retired in 1970). He and his wife Nyria (they married on 28 June 1947 in Edmonton, Middlesex [3] bought a farm in West Penwith in 1965 and they farmed (dairy and beef, at Kerrow Farm) until they moved to Menorca where they had a small holding (known as a finca) outside Alayor. They then moved to C'an Amoros, outside Pollensa in Mallorca where Ralph had a few cows and a large citrus orchard.

They moved to Australia in 1978, on a Russian ship (via Sri Lanka, arriving on March 17th), and after a year in Western Australia (on Lapko's Farm, Denmark) they settled in Tasmania at Riverside Cottage, Upper Scamander, on the east coast.

He died on 4 November 1990, at home.

Late 1950s in Great Witley.[4]

Joan Nyria Hancox

Nyria Denton-Barker (née Hancox) (23 February 1918 – 15 October 2004) was born in Bebington.[5]

Aged 6 (c.1925) she attended Howell's School Llandaff (in the Vale of Glamorgan, Wales).[6]

In the mid-thirties she studied nursing at Guy's Hospital, where she was working as a Sister on the children's ward when, in 1938, she was evacuated out of London.

She died on 15 October 2004 in St Helens, Tasmania.

Virginia Kathleen Denton Barker

Virginia Kathleen Denton Barker (1919–2006) was born in Birkenhead, and educated at the Birkenhead High school for Girls (1924–37), and University College, London (1937–41). She graduated in 1941 in Anthropology, Economics and Psychology (II.i). From 1941 to 1945 she worked for the Wartime Social Survey (Ministry of Information) first as an interviewer and later in charge of the Survey of Sickness. From 1945–48 she worked with the Secretariat of the Royal Commission on Population. She was offered a place to read medicine at St. Bartholomew's Hospital in the first year that the Hospital admitted women as medical students. However, she did not take up this offer, instead marrying Eugene Grebenik on 28th December 1946. From 1948–60 she was engaged with domestic life and child rearing (three children: Michael, Peter and Catherine). From 1960–69 she worked as a part-time lecturer in Education at the Yorkshire College of Housecraft, which was to become Leeds Polytechnic and later, Leeds Metropolitan University. From 1973–84 she worked as Psychiatric Social worker at Holloway Sanatorium, Virginia Water, Surrey. On retiring in 1978 she was active in forming the Runnymede Mental Health Association, which provided care for patients discharged from Holloway and for other patients who were living in the Community. She was also President of the RMHA. A new wing for day respite centre was named after her. [7] Went to Perth (Western Australia) in 1982 to visit family.

Geoff in the 1930s

Bertram Mead Denton Barker

Mead Denton Barker was educated at Cheam and Felsted, and then trained as a Mechanical Engineer. He served as a pilot in the RAF during the war and after demobilisation was employed as an engineer in the Midlands. He married Charlotte Marion Rabus in 1948/9 and had one daughter (Rosalie).

His parents were James (p. 8) and Kathleen (p. ??).

Kathleen Munday

Kathleen Munday (5 November 1882 – 17 September 1963) was the second daughter of John Hill Munday (p. 12), who was a partner in a firm of solicitors in London. They lived at The Mendips, Surbiton, Surrey. She was educated at Cheltenham Ladies College, but like most middle class women of her generation did not receive a higher education, nor did she seek employment after finishing school. She was a very accomplished wood carver and artist and received a medal for her fine work. She met James Denton Barker when she was on holiday at Ilkley in Yorkshire and they married just before the outbreak of the first World War, on 4 April 1914. Early the following year their first son, Mead, was born, followed a year and a half later by Ralph (p.5), and then Virginia (p.6) in 1919.

Alice Margaret Renner was born on 12 April 1884 in Wallasey in Cheshire.^[10] She married Charles Hancox (p.10) on 7 June 1905^[?], with whom she had five children (Charles, Winifred, Norman, Barbara, and Philip). Alice died in 1977.

Thomas Henry Barker

Thomas Henry Barker was Secretary of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce for 26 years.¹

He was born on 18 May 1841² at 15 Earle Street in Liverpool,³ the second son of Charles Frederick (p. 13) and Elizabeth Barker (p. 13).

Thomas Henry lived at 79 Canning Street, Liverpool in 1861 at the age of 19, with his mother Elizabeth (already a widow) and worked as a ship owners clerk. In the household were his brother Joseph Bolton Barker (16), brother Charles N. Barker (age 24) Mariner and their aunt Isabella Hazelwood, age 52.

In the 1871 census he was still at Canning Street and worked as a Merchant. On 25 August 1875 he married [[Mary Ellen Mouldsdales]],⁴ with whom he would have seven sons:⁵ in 1876, James Denton Barker (p. 8); 1878, Charles Frederick Strangways Barker (p. 8); 1879, Thomas Percy Conyers Barker (p. 8); c. 1880, Francis Darcy Mead Barker (p. 10); 1882, William Danby Holt Barker (p. 8); 1883, Jonathan Tong Barker (p. 8); and in 1885, Henry Bertram Mitford Barker (p. 10).

He became the Secretary of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce on 15 August 1884. He was very active with the Chamber and was heavily involved in promoting the industry and trade of the city. He was presented with a bound book of speeches and writings and a large portrait on 30 April 1906.(see below)

He travelled extensively overseas, and promoted Liverpool trade and merchants with West Africa and with Russia, and collaborated in setting up the Department of Russian Studies at the University of Liverpool.

He may have died shortly before 10 April 1917.⁶⁷

The following is a short biography of TH Barker, probably written not long after his death. ⁸

Mr Barker joined the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce as Assistant Secretary in 1881. In 1884 he succeeded Mr William Blood as Secretary.

Mr Barker formed in that year the African Trade Section whose work has led to a great extension of British Possessions and interests in West Africa. In this connection mention may be made of "the large increase in Imports of West African timber, to the arrangement for Timber Concessions and the fixing of Royalties and other charges at the lowest obtainable figure.

In 1886 Mr Barker travelled over the Canadian Pacific Railway from Quebec to Vancouver, shortly after its opening, in order to see and report upon the commercial resources of the newly opened parts of the Dominion. From 1888, when the Railway and Canal Traffic Act 1888 was passed, he worked extensively in the matters of Railway Reform, including Reclassification of goods and reduction of rates.

Mr Barker also drew up important reports upon the Effects on the Port of Liverpool of the opening of the Manchester Ship Canal, and on the Administration and Charges of the Port. These reports were presented to the Mersey Docks & Harbour Board and their recommendations largely adopted by the Board. The result was substantial reductions in Rates & Dues. These matters being of vital interest to the Timber Trade, the Association was represented upon the Committees by the late Messrs J Berkeley Smith, and James Harrison and, later, by Alderman James Webster.

Mr Barker organised and represented the Chamber on a large number of Deputations to Government Departments on many matters affecting the trade of the country and of the Port of Liverpool. Between 1884 and the present time Mr Barker wrote more than 100 Memorials which were presented to various Departments of the State and which may be classified as follows, namely 55 Memorials on Home Administration and Legislation, 25 on Indian, Colonial and Foreign subjects and 20 on African subjects. Also 20 special reports were drawn up and presented to successive Governments, in addition to reports on Parliamentary Bills.

In the autumn of 1903 Mr Barker attended the Meeting of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire at Montreal, when he took the opportunity of again crossing Canada by the newest route; thence visiting Japan, North China, Corea, Manchuria and Siberia, travelling over the Trans Siberian Railway from Dalny to Moscow, in order to report upon prospects of extension of British Trade with Siberia &c.

Some ten years ago a Russian Section was added to the Chamber.

Mr Barker was one of a small Deputation, including the late Sir Alfred Jones, which waited upon the Czar of Russia at Cowes, subsequent to the visit of members of the Duma to Liverpool and was made Chevalier of the Order of Saint Anne of Russia.

Boyd Gilmour

Boyd Gilmour was born on March 22, 1814, in Riccarton in Scotland. Death: 26 March 1869 Ayrshire, Scotland Parents: Joseph Gilmour (p. ??) Mary Boyd Clark Siblings: Boyd Gilmour (Born 22 March 1814 Died 26 March 1869) Partners: Jean Dunsmore Elizabeth Howatson

On 19 December 1850, Boyd and his family sailed on the Pekin for Fort Vancouver, and the journey took 191 days. On 18 July 1851 they sailed to Fort Rupert, on Vancouver Island where he took up a contract to develop new coal mines for the Hudson Bay Company (the HBC had recruited expert miners and their families on three-year contracts from the Orkney Islands and the county of Ayrshire). He struggled unsuccessfully to develop a producing coal operation, (with his nephew Robert Dunsmuir, who was to become one of the richest men on the west coast) at Fort Rupert. Life at Fort Rupert was harsh. When the miners arrived they found no working mine, inferior coal, food shortages, and danger from warring native tribes. The settlement consisted of a defensive wooden surround in the traditional wild-west style, and single room log cabins with a central stone fireplace and bunk beds set against the wall. Water was drawn from a communal well: communal ovens were used for cooking. The coal there was poor, so Fort Ruperts mines were eventually abandoned after many miners breached their contracts and fled to the California gold fields. (S6) Those few that remained moved to Fort Victoria, including Boyd and his family, on 24 August 1852 after Governor Douglas instructed them to move 200 miles south to Nanaimo, a small port which was based on the fur trade and fishing. It was here that a local Indian told the settlers where they could find stones that burn - thus a coal seam was discovered. Work proceeded but living conditions were difficult. Living conditions were only slightly better at Nanaimo and Jean Gilmour refused to live there. The Gilmours returned to Scotland in 1854, when Governor Douglas refused to increase their pay rates.

After Jean died in 1856, Boyd is shown in the 1861 Census as living in Old Hurlford and is a Coalmaster (widower, age 46) with his children Mary (18, p. 13), Marian (14), Boyd (12), and Allan Columbia (9). He then remarried later that year (11 November) to Elizabeth Howatson, a 20 year old farmer's daughter (living at Hill Farm) and had three more children.

In the 1868 Hurlford District Directory his properties are listed as Woodend, Burnbank, Ladyton, and Goatfoot Collieries.

On his death certificate he is listed as "Coalmaster", and died at his home, "Riverside Cottage", Loudon Parish. His father Joseph was down as a coal miner. He died from 'fatty degeneration of the heart ten days from appearance of symptoms' and the death was reported by his brother Andrew Gilmour, butcher, also of Loudon Parish. His will includes details about a contract with his son Allan, and provision is made for his second wife Elizabeth (use of his house in Titchfield Street, Galston, and a yearly annuity of (pounds) 120 until the youngest child attains the age of 21 after which the entitlements were reduced - payable Whitsunday and Martinmas. Plus reasonable assistance after his death to provide his wife and children with mourning. When or if she remarries, she would then receive (pounds) 20 per annum. She "is obliged to maintain and upbringing in a manner suitable to that station such of his children who have not attained majority.") (S6
